Forwarding to my office email in order to take advantage of read receipt functionality.

This remains a personal matter

Good day, gentlemen.

I have been informed by Steven Burchard of Magical Memories Entertainment of Pleasantville, NY that the person of Mark Demetropoulos of the firm of Warren Law Group of New York, NY will be the designated point of contact.

Please review all previous correspondence between myself and your client, Magical Memories Entertainment of Pleasantville, NY.

They can be found at <https://marcjellinek.wordpress.com/2023/07/09/how-to-be-a-gangster-lesson-four-everything-in-writing/>

If I may of any service or assistance, please put 30 minutes on my calendar <https://calendly.com/marc-jellinek-asylum> Have specific questions ready. We can treat it like an informal deposition.

Mr. Burchard seems explicitly concerned about an attempt to extort or blackmail him.

I'm not sure which court would have jurisdiction over such a matter.

I live in NJ, where all of these messages were received and responded to by me (Marc Jellinek, the person, 37 Overhill Drive, Parlin, NJ 08859) Magical Memories Entertainment claims to do business in Pleasantville, NY and Florida (although I can find no valid business registrations in either state) Ms. Ara Pineda (an employee of Magical Memories Entertainment) is at some indeterminate place. Mr. Burchard was at some indeterminate place when he responded with the threat of prosecution.

Please forward the geographic location of Ms. Ara Pineda at the time she provided email responses claiming I'm trying to commit fraud.

Each accusation and email where the accusation is repeated should be identified by geographic location.

Please forward the geographic location of Mr. Steven Burchard at the time he accused me of extortion and/or blackmail.

Each accusation and email where the accusation is repeated should be identified by geographic location.

I would prefer specific physical geographical addresses (suitable for mailing by US Postal Service, GPS coordinates are also acceptable), but the city and state will suffice for now.

We can do this as a courtesy, I can use the emails themselves to determine location or I can ask a judge to compel. Let's build a productive and cooperative relationship. Please consider fulfilling this request as a courtesy.

I'll need this to determine the court(s) & jurisdiction(s) to file in and will be determinant under which specific statute(s) we will use to address this egregious behavior.

Please let me know in which court(s) Mr. Burchard intends to file; so I might secure qualified local representation known to the specific court.

Will this be municipal, county, state or federal?

Please take your time to consider these questions carefully. All the time you need. But please have an answer back to me within 30 days of receipt, again, as a courtesy.

Please also acknowledge receipt of this email. If I do not receive acknowledgement by midnight 14 July 2023, I will follow this up with a registered letter addressed to the attention of Mr. Demetropoulos at the address below. Please let me know if this address is incorrect.

Mark Demetropoulos

I can make myself available for an in-person conversation at your New York office with 10 business days notice. Please let me know if this is necessary or desirable. I feel that a face-to-face conversation can clear up most issues quickly and effectively.

You may want to counsel your client on the difference between a "final" invoice vs a "pro forma" invoice... there might be some confusion there. I'm sure they would appreciate fully informed guidance into the differences between different jurisdictions... how the rules change based on the location of the provider and the location of the customer. It can be a very complex topic that your client clearly doesn't understand.

Dear Mr. Jellinek,

This correspondence serves to notify you that the actions, statements, and requests you have made recently have generated considerable unease within my team and myself. Consequently, we have engaged the services of the Warren Law Group to manage this situation on our behalf.

Effective immediately, we kindly request that you cease any further communication with our office, staff, vendors, or any other representatives associated with our organization. Instead, please direct any future correspondence to Mark Demetropoulos, who will serve as our designated point of contact. His contact details are provided below:
