

Click to Call:
(866) 928-4959

EMPLOYERS BEWARE: COMPELLING ARBITRATION UNDER A CBA MAY BE A PROBLEM

By Cynthia Angello / May 24, 2023

Posted in Employer Defense and Litigation

BACKGROUND: After being fired by his employer, Anheuser-Busch Companies, LLC, Matthew Brown filed suit in federal district court alleging that his termination was the result of racial discrimination and retaliation, in violation of Title VII. In response, Anheuser-Busch filed a motion seeking to compel arbitration of Brown's district court claims, asserting that at the time...

Read More

Search  Search

CATEGORIES

- Cannabis Law
- Commercial Litigation
- Construction & Real Estate Development
- Corporate Law and Financial Transactions
- Cryptocurrency Defense and Investigations
- Employer Defense and Litigation
- Firm Updates
- Published Works
- Securities Litigation and FINRA Arbitrations
- White Collar Defense & Investigations

RECENT POSTS

Employers Beware: Compelling Arbitration Under a CBA May Be a Problem

4 Lessons to be Taken From Crypto Pump-and-Dumps

What is a Grand Jury Subpoena and

Warren Law Group chat window. Messages: "number for us to reach you.", "Please just answer the question", "I'm sorry, I didn't get that. Try again?", "Please tell me who is Mark Demetropoulos", "I'm sorry, I didn't get that. Try again?".

4 LESSONS TO BE TAKEN FROM CRYPTO PUMP-AND-DUMPS

By David Rosenfield / April 24, 2023

Posted in White Collar Defense & Investigations

Due to the massive popularity of cryptocurrencies like Bitcoin, Ether, and Dogecoin, crypto enthusiasts see them as the future of global money. Unfortunately, where there's money to be made, scammers are never far behind. According to a study by the University of Technology Sydney and the Stockholm School of Economics, there were 355 instances of...

Read More

WHAT IS A GRAND JURY SUBPOENA AND HOW DOES IT DIFFER FROM OTHER SUBPOENAS

